

Fort Clark Springs RV Park

Brackettville, Texas

January 2014

January dawned bright, beautiful and wintery. It was a bit cold and the skies were gray, but for some very brave campers, this was NOT daunting. We arrived on Wednesday and Thursday and were greeted by a new park host (Cyndi). The park was full and we did not get to be together. This was OK as none of us were too far apart.

This being Brackettville, we thought that we should bring most of our food as we remembered only one restaurant in town. Boy were we wrong!! This little town has added three new restaurants and we tried all of them. Some of them twice to three times. I'm not saying that our club is all about eating, but you know how it is----we come, we see----, we play games----, we catch up on all the news-----, and then we EAT!!!

Even though the park was full we had the rec hall to ourselves just about the entire time. Our group was small, but we all voted it one of the best camp outs in a long time. I, for one, think it was the best camp out of the year.

As in years past the ladies went to play Bingo at the Fort. We had a great time, and one of us came out the big winner. We did not have "hosts" for this camp out, so some of us found a delightful little bakery/gas station across the street. We had wonderful kolachlies for breakfast on Sunday.

Saturdays' pot luck was small, but really good and we had more food that we could eat. We had just the right amount of everything.

We had a business meeting before we ate, it was short and sweet and all the members should receive the minutes of the meetings via e-mail from now on. Birthdays and anniversaries were acknowledged (which you can read in the minutes).

A little note to all the members that did not come because it was too cold or too far. You really missed a great camp out, sometimes wonderful times do come in small packages.

Hope to see you next time at Canyon Trails. Be safe, happy and healthy.
