

Oakwood RV Park

Fredericksburg, TX

May 2014

It has been some time since we visited Oakwood RV Park, so it was nice to come back. It is a nice park with all the amenities that our club needs. It also helped us out when we needed it (as the other park lost our reservations). The only problems were the narrow sites and the lack of strong air conditioning in the rec hall. Even though space between sites was small we did manage to squeeze at least 25 people in between the Burns and Gabriels rigs. It was so nice to be outside with the cool breezes blowing and the guys solving all the world's problems.

Wednesday was spent eating lunch at the Old German Bakery in downtown Fredericksburg. The restaurant is very nice and the food was wonderful. For those of you who did not go----you really missed a treat. The rest of the day was spent greeting fellow "scouts" and playing games, dinner in.

Thursday some of us went back to the Bakery for breakfast (was really good), and while we were there, the women were presented gift bags from the waitress. She said they were from a "nice gentleman" and wouldn't say who. The bags contained a $15.00 gift certificate to the jewelry store next door. We all decided to find out how reasonable this place was. What a surprise, the "nice gentleman" was super nice and was putting his four children through college. He said he would sell us any earrings for half price! The ones that I picked out were $30.00 and with the gift certificate ----- they were free! Also in our bags was a pair of earrings, it pays to shop. The name of this store is the "Silver Rush" and we all plan to come back.

By that evening the rest of the campers had arrived. Most of us stayed in and grilled and a few went out to dinner. Games were played by all (some played and some watched). The Spurs took some of our campers away. Night time came brought cooler temperatures, most of us were happy about this.

Fredericksburg has a lot to offer and most of us tried to take advantage of it. The Wild Seed Farm and winery were visited as well as the many shops. Friday was dinner out and we trooped over to Catfish Haven. We have been here before and the food is pretty good. It's hard to find a place that can accommodate us all, we may try someplace different next time.

Saturday was spent shopping, relaxing, touring and getting ready for the pot luck. The dinner was good as usual, followed by a brief meeting. The May birthdays and anniversaries were mentioned and the guests introduced. You will find these names and dates in the minutes. One important point is that Barbara Shadrock has been in the hospital, very ill, and we were unaware until the camp out. Please, please when a member is ill let Charlie or Carlton know so that they can notify the club members. We are so sorry Barbara—we did not know

Sunday breakfast was provided by Nancy and Dan McDonald, Kay Bowen and Carlton. Joann spent a lot of time and effort to decorate for Mother's Day, she did a wonderful job-----Thanks from all of us.

Until next month in Boerne have a safe and happy Memorial Day. Remember to send your reservations early cuz ya don't want to miss it!!!
